About the Library

The college has a well-equipped library, occupying approximately 677.48 sq. m of built-up area. The library is divided into seven sections which include a stock room & book exchange section, reference book section, periodicals section, separate study rooms for girls and boys, a librarian's cabin, a ladies room, and a reference section for staff. There are a total of 46,590 books available for readers, which cover various subjects such as tax, reference materials, fine literature, and dictionaries. All of these books are outfitted with barcodes for quick action. Additionally, the library receives a total of 34 periodicals every month on various subjects, and 07 daily newspapers are available. The library operates with the help of the Vidyasagar Integrated Library Management System. This system aids in maintaining library records, providing barcode functionality, managing books, managing enrollments, administering library operations, and offering the Online Public Access Catalog (OPAC) for easy access to the library's catalogue. Approximately 200-300 students visit the library daily, and all necessary facilities as per library science guidelines are provided. Every year, the library purchases new books based on the requirements of the college departments. In addition to regular library services, the library also organizes book exhibitions on the occasion of the birthdays of prominent personalities such as Mahatma Gandhi, Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, and Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam. The library also offers additional facilities such as a Book Bank for borrowing books, e-sources for staff members, and inter-library loan facility.
